Observations...

By the Editor

The question of sand beaches has been discussed for quite some time and we think some effort should be made to start the ball rolling to make them a reality. There is always the question of the great cost, but perhaps, a little experimenting would show us the way at very little cost. On a small scale the experimenting has been done by Lucien Gex in front of his home. May we suggest to our city fathers and to the members of the Board of Supervisors that a groin or sand barrier be placed at a point in front of the McDonald property where a sand bar is rapidly building, and that this groin be extended some four or five hundred feet into the bay, and let us watch the results. As sand accumulates, it should be moved with a drag line to shore and to build it at very little cost, and it is removed from would not cost a great deal. The groin or sand barrier, if built, would not only protect the beach, but it would also protect the city from the sea. We sincerely hope Major Staub has been impressed, and his report will convince his superiors that there is no better location in the country for the Air Force Academy. Whether it is selected or not we want to tip our hat to Pal Moore for his alert and progressive move in submitting the data to the Selection Board. Folks are going to have to quit the sidewalks and take to the streets in some sections of the City. It is a downright shame how the grass and weeds are allowed to grow to a point where pedestrians can hardly pass. As we remember it, the city owns a moving machine, but apparently it is of no use. Just doesn't seem to be able to cut the tough grass which grows in our town. You know boys, there are such things as files, and moving machine blades can be sharpened. How about having your men try it? Our genial friend and ardent legionnaire, Doc Dickson, has been named Chief de Guerre of the Coast Volunte of the 40 and 8. Congratulations Doc. Following in the footsteps of the Hancock County Courthouse and the business houses of Bay St. Louis, the Postoffice will be closed on each Wednesday Afternoon at 1 P. M., starting August 2nd. We want to call the Mayor and Commission Council's attention to what happened at St. Charles St., and the Beach. A line of concrete posts have been erected on the right of way of the beach boulevard, to prevent parking in this area. This is public property, and is one of the few spots where people are able to enjoy a little sand beach. We think they are entitled to have a parking place along a public street and on public property. The fire plug has even been enclosed at this particular spot. Would you please check into this? The Women's Circle of the Presbyterian Church will have a rummage sale on August 4 and 5 for the benefit of their Church building fund. It will be held in the Betz building, at the corner of Third and Sycamore Street. Our friend, Jimmy Roos, of New Orleans, who has a summer home at Clermont Harbor and who has been named a member of the Advisory Police Board of the City of New Orleans, by Mayor Chep Morrison. Congratulations Jimmy. We want to call your attention to a letter to the editor in this week's issue from Edward Desobry. It suggests what should be done with the old bridge when the new one is completed. Some food for thought.

S. Blackledge, General Manager of the Monroeville Bus Lines, announced today. Monroeville Bus Lines, which has headquarters in Monroeville, Ala., is one of the 55 trunk line companies composing the nation-wide Trailways Bus System.

Alden L. Mauffray, was installed as president of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club at the Silver Jubilee celebration of that group July 5.

Mr. Mauffray, who has served as vice-president of the Rotary, will hold office for the 1950-51 term. He is a prominent Bay St. Louis business man and is the owner of Mauffray Hardware and Mauffray Hardware Annex stores.

L. Dickson Installed As Chef de Guerre

Laurent Dickson, Bay St. Louis, was installed as Chef de Guerre of the 40 & 8 of the American Legion Monday night at a meeting in the Biloxi Legion home.

Other Legionnaires who will serve with the Chef de Guerre are A. L. LeDuke, Biloxi, Chief de Train; D. C. Norman, Commissaire Intendant; Emile Gelle, Conductor; D. V. VanCourt, Lampiste; Owen Monroe and Burt Hurley, Guard de la Porte; Vincent Carden, Publiciste; and Andy J. Becker, Bay St. Louis, Correspondent.

E. A. Hiller, manager of the Biloxi VA Center, is the Grand Chevalier; C. M. Bates, Grand Chef de Guerre, was the installing officer.

A three-story structure, 90 by 36 feet, is being erected at St. Augustine Seminary which will tie into the three-story minor seminary building situated to the west of the chapel. The new building will be of solid red Slidell brick and will have a Spanish tile roof. The purpose of this building is to secure more room for the growing student body. It will furnish space for a dormitory on the third floor; offices and a science room on the ground floor; a parlor and the procurator's office on the main floor. The ground floor will be of cork tile and the second floor of rubber tile. The Minor Seminary building now in use will have the upper story lowered seven feet and will have a new tile roof to give uniformity to the buildings.

There will be seventy students in the Minor Seminary at the fall opening which is an increase over last year's registration.

The work of erecting the building and tile roof on the old building is expected to run a little under $100,000 and is scheduled to be completed by the end of November.

Wallis Walley of the Walley Construction Co., of Richton is in charge of the construction. Ninety per cent of the labor employed is local.

The new service which Monroeville is asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve will give direct Trailways System bus service along the Gulf Coast from Texas through New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola, to Southern Florida, Mr. Blackledge said. Through New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola, the proposed Monroeville Bus Lines Gulf Coast service would tie-in with other Trailways companies from the Pacific to New England and throughout the Middle West and the South, Mr. Blackledge said.

"We believe the Silver Liner service we propose to give not only will materially help the Gulf Coast, but also will be of immeasurable value to New Orleans, which depends on a good deal on the business of travelers, and to Mobile, one of the historic cities of the South, as well as to Pensacola and the entire area," Mr. Blackledge said.

"This is not a one-company local bus operation," he emphasized. "It will benefit the entire area through the travel-influence of the 55 Trailways Bus System companies now operating in 44 states from coast to coast."

The new Gulf Coast service by Monroeville, if permitted by the Interstate Commerce Commission, will be interstate service over Gulf Coast Route 90, the general manager said. Among the communities which will be served, in addition to New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola, will be Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Gulfport, Biloxi, Ocean Springs, Pascagoula, Moss Point, Theodore and Loxley he said.

Under questioning, by Chief Saucier and officer Garcia, Stacy confessed that he had been peeping in windows in Bay St. Louis for a year or more, the officer said.

Stacy was tried Tuesday on three counts of unlawful trespassing in the yards of W. L. Reeder, W. Reinike and Mrs. S. L. Touquet, by Mayor Warren Carver. He was fined $25.00 and sentenced to thirty days on each count. He was turned over to the county authorities, and is now in the County jail.

W. W. Webre Named To MEC Committee

Forty-three prominent Mississippians have been named to serve on the Mississippi Economic Council's education committee, which holds its first meeting in Jackson on August 8 to 10:30 a. m., according to Oliver Emmerich, MEC, chairman.

Representing this area on the committee will be W. W. Webre, Gulf Coast Trade School, Bay St. Louis. There are 43 members on the committee.

The committee is to map a program to promote Americanism throughout the state, with particular emphasis on the advantages of the free enterprise system.

This is the second year the education committee has functioned in the MEC program, and officials are confident it will be of much help in conveying the layman's viewpoint to the public educational system.

"We are proud to have local representation on the committee," the chairman said, "and we trust the representatives will make an attempt to attend the first meeting on August 8th."

The cars received minor damages, but considerable damage was done to the fence at the Forest Lake residence.

Representatives of Hazelet and Erdal Inc., are said to be on the Gulf Coast now preparing to make preliminary surveys. The amount of money involved in the contract was not estimated.

MOTT MAKES BORINGS
Contracts for foundation borings to determine the location of the $4,500,000.00 concrete toll bridge across the Bay of St. Louis were awarded to B. H. Mott Drilling Company of Birmingham, Ala. July 14.

The Alabama firm will make eleven borings to determine subsurface conditions necessary to design of foundations for the proposed bridge. Each boring will be capped to a depth of 125 feet below mean tide.

The proposed locations of the borings will follow the line of the present wooden structure across the bay and will be made at points just yards away from the present foundations.

The borings are laid out, a recent department announcement said, contemplating the use of present points of entry to the bridge at the Bay St. Louis side and at the Henderson Point side.

NOT DEFINITE LOCATION
The borings will not indicate definite bridge locations, Highway Commissioner Smith stated.

After preliminary surveys being conducted by the highway department, are completed, the information will be turned over to Hazelet and Erdal Inc., and the Highway department will withdraw, it was stated.

Under the terms of the act passed by the 1950 legislature authorizing construction, the toll bridges will be administered by trustees under a trust indenture. The Hancock Bank will act as trustee for the Bay St. Louis bridge, and the Pascagoula-Moss Point bank will act as trustee for the Pascagoula bridge.

Present plans, according to the department, call for the Bay St. Louis bridge to be in almost the same locality as the present wooden, hurricane and fire damaged, structure.

Who Will Carry The Torch of Leadership?

Did you ever read the story of Rip Van Winkle when you were a youngster? This story could aptly be applied to us in Hancock County.

We have been sound asleep; so sound, we have practically lost our identity. We hear the merchants of Bay St. Louis complain that at one time Bay St. Louis was a trading center for the people of the rural areas of Hancock County, and today it is no longer. Certainly not. Has it ever occurred to you that over half of our county population is identified with our adjoining counties and their addresses emanate from there.

These people have become reconciled to the fact that they actually belong to either Picayune, Perkinston or Pass Christian. In fact, two members of our County Board of Supervisors are listed with Picayune, Miss. addresses and one with a Perkinston, Miss. address.

It is time for us to wake up from the sound slumber we have been enjoying during the past years and realize the injury we have allowed to be wrought upon us. There has been a continual lengthening of these postal routes, and today, Picayune Route Number 1 is within a mile of the old mill site of Logtown. Picayune Route Number 3 is within three miles of Kiln, and the Pass Christian route within two miles, east and north, of Kiln; while the entire northeast section of the County is covered by the Perkinston route of Carriere and Poplarville.

Bay St. Louis is the county seat of Hancock County, and the people of this county are due more consideration and are entitled to be in closer touch with Bay St. Louis. At the present time the delivery of mail is at least a two day proposition from Bay St. Louis to the people in the major portion of Hancock County.

Are we finally going to allow our mail in Bay St. Louis to come over rural routes from the other counties? Well, if we don't get down to brass tacks and wake up, these rural routes will be within a stone's throw of the Bay St. Louis Postoffice. What are we going to do about it?

There are many things we can do and it is about time for us to go to work. A definite plan should be outlined and submitted to the Postoffice Department to have these routes emanate from Bay St. Louis. One could serve the Lakeshore, Ansley, Pearlinton and Logtown area, and the other the Aaron Academy, Flat Top and Leetown area. From Kiln, a route could serve the east and northeast section of the county. This would give to our people a one day mail service from their County seat.

Are you interested in reidentifying your County? If so, let's go to work. This is an opportunity for the Mayor and Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis, the Board of Supervisors, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and the other civic organizations of Bay St. Louis to come to the front and work for a worthwhile cause.

It will take some effort to do the job, of course, but anything worth having is worth working for and certainly we know of nothing which would mean more to help build a bigger and better Hancock County.

Will someone arouse us from our peaceful slumber and bear the torch of leadership in a righteous cause?

Ready-Made Opportunity

Editor:

Why destroy the present Bay St. Louis bridge when the new concrete span is completed?

It could readily be utilized as an amusement pier to serve Bay St. Louis on one side and the Henderson Point-Pass Christian area on the other.

Many Sea Coast communities expend thousands and tens of thousands of dollars to build municipal piers. Here is a ready-made opportunity for the Bay.

Sketchily, here is what might be done:

1. The bridge could be split at the present channel to eliminate the necessity of a draw.

2. Vehicle traffic would be prohibited without heavy use, up-keep costs would be eliminated.

3. Bath houses and rest rooms could be added and low platforms built for swimming.

4. Special platforms could be provided for fishing and crabbing.

5. Boat landings could be another feature.

These are only a few of the possibilities.

Such municipal attractions would serve to draw even more of the resort-conscious of New Orleans and other sections here.

UNKNOWN HEROES

To The Editor:

The following account of the heroism of two teen-age youths, fourteen and a half years old, is worthy of comment.

On Tuesday afternoon about 5 p.m., the two boys were returning from a fishing trip to Brignone's pier when, nearing the railroad bridge, their attention was directed by a man fishing on the railroad bridge, to a speedboat which had overturned, throwing an elderly man and his son into the water.

The boys hurried to the scene and were able to right the boat, help the man into the boat and retrieve the wooden tackle box and two water soaked cushions.

They towed the speed boat home with Mr. Stein and his son, to Fred's pier.

These heroes were Jerry Barouse and Hillary DeBen, both second year pupils of the Jesuit High School in New Orleans.

Thomas Schorr Dies On Sunday

Thomas Schorr, aged 56, born in New Orleans, La., on May 2, 1894 passed away Sunday afternoon at the Charity hospital in New Orleans.

A life long resident of Pass Christian, Mr. Schorr is survived by his stepmother, Mrs. Annie Schorr, two daughters, Mrs. Boyd Quinn, of Greenville, and Mrs. Eddie Resh, of Gulfport, and one grandson, Skipper Quinn.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. from Riemann's chapel and St. Paul's Catholic church with Rev. J. P. McGlade officiating. Interment was in Live Oaks cemetery.

RETURN FROM BOYS STATE

Larry Reid and Dick Hooker returned this past weekend from Magnolia Boys State at Belhaven College in Jackson, Miss. They represented St. Joseph's High School and the Pass Christian public high school respectively.

Larry was elected senator from the Southern District, representing the Federalist Party. He served on the judiciary committee in the senate.

The boys handled the reins of government for a few days and gained valuable personal experience in public speaking and legislation.

The bills passed by the boys while they were in office might reflect the ideas and ideals of the future citizens of our country. Among the bills passed by both houses were a bill forbidding the issuance of marriage licenses between the hours of 8 p.m. and 6 a.m.; a bill legalizing the sale of liquor, making Mississippi a wet state. This bill was passed with stiff opposition on a 25-23 vote, and a bill to make it non-compulsory to join unions in order to work on large contracted jobs.

Pulpwood Industry Replants 61,500 Acres

For the second consecutive year the Southern pulpwood industry is responsible for having planted in excess of 60 million trees. The survey, made by H. J. Molsberger, Forester for the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association, for the first time included the tree planting activities of those supplying pulpwood to the mills. These pulpwood producers account for the planting of 1 1/2 million trees. The acreage planted is estimated on the basis of setting out 1,000 trees per acre.

The industry purchased 53 1/2 million trees from the state foresters and grew the remaining 6 million in company operated nurseries.

Nearly 43 1/2 million of these trees were planted on lands owned by the pulp mills or producers. The remaining 18 million were contributed to small landowners to assist them in restocking worn-out or idle farm and forest lands. The contribution to the landowners is an increase of 6 1/2 million trees over the quantity donated by the industry last year. Of the total so contributed the producers accounted for about 3 1/2 million trees or about half the total they purchased and grew.

The tree planting program of the pulpwood industry is only one of its activities directed toward growing more trees in the South. Through the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association, adequate forest fire control, wise cutting practices, and educational activities such as the forestry training camps for farm youth, are encouraged and promoted in order to provide a stable economy based on forest products.

The members of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association are responsible for 83 percent of this total industry tree planting activity.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A Congress, which a couple of weeks ago was packing its collective bags preparatory to returning home, has begun to unpack those bags and to settle down for "the duration" as a result of the gravity of the Korean situation. Political fences at home, which must always be mended immediately prior to an election, will either go unattended or be attended by the friends of the individual members. For, after all, while members of Congress are of necessity politicians, they are in the main, also, patriotic Americans. In this connection we are appreciative of the fact that our loyal friends and constituents saw to it that we personally did not have opposition this year. We are grateful that so far as we personally are concerned we can devote all of our time to the serious job to be done here.

As a result of the gravity of the situation in Korea, with all of its implications, the President has called upon the Congress for ten billion dollars more for military use with an additional two billion for procurement loans. He has, also, asked for new controls in the matter of defense contracts. The President's message last week asking for this and other things was not delivered in person, but was sent to the Congress by messenger and read by the clerks of the House and Senate. Ordinarily, when these messages are read, few members are on the floor and the reading clerk is often unable to be heard distinctly because of the confusion of many undertone conversations between the members; but on this occasion it was very different. There was a full attendance in the House. The members sat in their seats in a serious and thoughtful attitude listening respectfully and attentively to the crew as he droned out paragraph after paragraph of the President's message. In addition to asking for the above-mentioned legislative authority and funds, the President indicated the Soviet government in no uncertain terms for its aggression in Korea and other parts of the globe. At the conclusion of the reading of the message all members of the House—Northern Democrats, who, ordinarily, support all of the President's requests, Southern Democrats, who oppose much of his domestic program, and Republicans, who are prone to be critical at all times, arose as a man to their feet and applauded the President's pronouncements. Representative Charles Halleck of Indiana, Acting Minority Leader, speaking for the Republicans at the conclusion of the address, said, in effect: "We are Republicans. We oppose much of the President's program, but we Republicans also are patriotic Americans and in this hour of the country's crisis, we stand behind the President, the Commander in Chief."

INFLATION

Aside from applauding the President's pronouncements of a firm policy to stop further aggression by the Soviet Republic, a policy which we personally have been advocating for the past five years, we were, also, pleased that the President recognized the danger of run-away inflation as a result of these new governmental expenditures which he proposes and which are necessary. He strongly hinted that he would ask Congress for additional and higher taxes at an early date as one method of curbing this dangerous inflationary trend. We agree that this will be necessary, but we, also, believe that if we are to mobilize the Nation's strength, we must, also have additional curbs. If we are to mobilize the strength of the Nation for this new crisis we must do it on all fronts. Neither corporations nor individuals should be permitted to profiteer in this emergency mobilization at the expense of the sweat and blood of the young men who are to bear the brunt of this fight on many global fronts. There must be no profiteering. There must be no excessive wages and salaries. There must be no paralyzing strikes of the Nation's efforts, all of which have characterized previous war efforts in this country. Selfishness on the home front must be curbed. Ruinous inflation must be prevented. Otherwise, even if we gain the objective of stopping Stalin's dream of a Communist World, we might lose our own liberties by the destruction of our own economy. We still believe that this is Russia's main objective rather than an all-out war.

St. Vincent DePaul
Members Meet Sun.

Members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, Particular Council No. 2, held an annual meeting and a day of recollection for its members at St. Augustine Seminary last Sunday. The day began with a high mass at 8:30 celebrated by the Rev. Robert Pung, S. V. D.

The major seminarians sang the Proper of the Mass, during which Father Pung welcomed the members to St. Augustine's in the name of the Society of the Divine Word and the faculty of the seminary.

Breakfast was served, under the direction of the seminarians, at the completion of the Mass. This was followed by the business meeting at 10:30 which was attended by all members of the society.

The group attended a special conference at 2:30, during which the Rev. Maurice Rousseau, S.V.D., Spiritual Director, presided. The conference was followed by Way of the Cross.

At the close of the conference, Rosary and Benediction were held by Father Rousseau in the Seminary chapel. During the services, the members venerated the relic of St. Vincent de Paul. This relic was brought to the Seminary by the Rev. George A. Wilson, S.S.J., pastor of St. Joan of Arc church, New Orleans, La.

The Seminary grounds were opened to all members during the entire day. The group, which came in two chartered Greyhound buses, after spending the day of recollection, departed for New Orleans at 5 p.m.

Your State Health Officer Says

"Polio strikes all individuals alike," stated Dr. Felix J. Underwood, State Health Officer, in an expression of regret over the illness of the daughter of Basil O'Connor, President of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"Despite lack of definite medical knowledge about the causes of polio authorities in the polio prevention field are agreed on certain precautions which are believed to afford reasonable protection against the dread disease. Among the best safeguards now known is cleanliness," stated Dr. Underwood.

"Personal cleanliness, cleanliness in the home, around one's premises is divided as to whether the polio virus enters the system through the intestinal tract or the respiratory tract yet it is clear that careful attention to personal hygiene affords important protection in either case.

"More frequent and more thorough hand washing by every member of the family is an order. Certainly all hands should be washed immediately before handling food and always after going to the toilet. Children should by all means be taught to wash their hands before eating, after going to the toilet, and when the hands have been soiled by either oral or nasal discharges. They should learn to wash their hands with the same care and conscientiousness that have proved so effective in helping physicians, dentists, and nurses to avoid spreading infection from the sick to the well. Many children, not properly cautioned give a "lick-and-a-promise" in washing their hands which affords little protection. Good soaps should be used freely to a better cleaning job," advised the state health officer.

"In addition to cleanliness, we would stress the following polio precautions," says Dr. Underwood.

1. Ample rest and sleep to avoid overtiredness or exhaustion. Normal activities, however, should not be restricted.
2. Keeping children, especially under ten years of age, out of crowds, whether at picnics, parties, swimming pools or elsewhere.
3. Taking care to avoid sudden or excessive chilling.
4. Avoiding unnecessary trips which would mean close contact

GUEST OF GRAYS

Miss Nancy Virden of Jackson is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gray.

Mrs. Gray entertained at a coke party for her guest Wednesday morning at her home. Those attending were Misses Susan and Jo Blanchard, June Breath, Tempe Perkins, Mary Helen Curran, Karen Kergosen and Ann Kenmar.

RETURNS FROM PERDIDO

Mrs. Latham Garriga and daughter, Donna Anne, returned this week from a visit with Mr. Garriga's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weinacker at Perdido Beach, Alabama. Richard Weinacker returned with Mrs. Garriga to visit his grandmother, Mrs. Charles Genin, and his uncle and aunt.

Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Jr., and her young son, E. J. III, spent Friday here with Mrs. Lacoste's sister Mrs. H. Grady Perkins.

With other youngsters or needless tiring of children.

Calling your physician if you notice any illness even though it may appear minor. Prompt medical attention is advisable and sensible.

Next To Godliness

Safety first is the precept wise mothers put into practice when summer bears down. Before it's a real holiday for Mother, she'll want to assure herself she has done all she can to make her child reasonably safe from the threat of such seasonal terrors as polio.

Start 'em Young

To protect against polio and other communicable diseases, Mother must make the youngster his own guardian against germs—by teaching him the value of cleanliness.

Frequent hand washing by the children serves as a good precaution against contagion—particularly when the hands are scrubbed thoroughly—and to this end Katherine Potter of Procter & Gamble advises the use of a gentle, abrasive, special action soap like Lava. Since children are apt to whisk through washing motions haphazardly, they'll need a fast, thoroughly cleansing soap that can do the job in a matter of seconds.

Suggestions from National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. A series of preventive suggestions is offered by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. They stress frequent washing of the hands, plenty of rest, avoiding crowds, unnecessary trips and extreme temperature changes. They also emphasize avoiding panic, when trouble is suspected. Rather, summon a physician immediately.

In emphasizing the need for frequent hand washing, the Foundation urges special attention before meals, after the toilet, and whenever hands have become soiled by oral or nasal discharges.

This training may pay dividends of many happy healthy hours of play for the child—as well as peace of mind for the parents.

C. Favre Is Member Of All-Star Team; Game Set For August 4

CLYDE FAVRE

State College, Miss., July 24.—Less than two weeks remain before the first annual Mississippi All-Star football game scheduled for Jackson Friday night, August 4, and interest in the blue-ribbon classic is mounting by leaps and bounds daily.

The South squad, coached by Yale's famous Herman Hickman, may enter the game in the role of the underdog, but you can rest assured the squad is loaded with capable performers and they're not to lack the Yankees, or rather we should say Bob Woodruff's North team.

TEN OUTSTANDING BACKS

Ten outstanding backs are listed on the South roster, but their chief strength appears to be in the line. The South forward line is loaded with some of the best pigskin talent ever to tread a football field and that spells trouble for the classy North team backs.

Included on the South roster are boys from 17 different communities. Fourteen of the players served as captain or co-captain of their high school team last season.

Possibly the brightest spot in the lineup is right in the center of the line. Here the South can boast of having two of the outstanding pivot men in the state. Probably it's needless to tell you that we have reference to John Crechale, 200-pound All-Big Eight star from Jackson, and Bobby Rouse, 198-pound captain of Moss Point, who was also selected on the Big Eight first team. Crechale has also been selected to play in the All-American High School game and will report to Memphis following the August 4 battle in Jackson.

FAVRE IS GUARD

The guard posts are well taken care of by Claude Manning, captain of Sandersville; Clyde Favre, captain of Bay St. Louis; Billy Bolivar of Crystal Springs, and Les Smith of Natchez.

Holding down the tackle spots will be Henry Linton of Hattiesburg; Jake Bellipanni of McComb; Eddy Wallace of Forest Hill; Herbert Ball, captain of Columbia, and Bob Wood of Biloxi.

Another strong position on the South team is end. Here huge Herman Hickman will call upon Donald Foster of Brookhaven; Jimmy Hocutt, an All-Big Eight star and most valuable player at Hattiesburg; John Rhymes of Hazlehurst; and Don Stewart, co-captain of McComb.

STRONG BACKFIELD

And don't think for a moment that the South isn't well fortified in the backfield. They definitely are strong here. Heading the list of ace backs who will see service for the South in the All-Star classic is Jackson's Huston Oakes, captain of the undefeated and untied Central High Tigers, who was an All-Big Eight and All-Southern selection. Oakes scored 19 touchdowns last year, playing halfback, but will probably be used at quarterback by the South coaching staff.

Then there's Billy Ivy, another fine halfback, from Jackson, and the two top backs from Picayune's fine eleven, Bobby Pearson and Marion Saloom. Pearson, co-captain of his team, scored five TD's from a halfback post, while Saloom, a fullback, scored fifteen touchdowns.

Now this is only the beginning. For there's Jack Redd, co-captain of G. C. M. A.; Curtis Meredith, captain of Hazlehurst; Shirley Poole, captain of Crosby; Billy Boykin, captain of Forest Hill, and Tommy Wood, Laurel's ace and captain who scored 14 touchdowns last season.

Alternate for the South squad is Walter King, 9-pound tackle and captain from Clinton.

REPORT JULY 30

The All-Star teams will report to State College, Sunday July 30, for a week of practice sessions under Coaches Woodruff and Hickman and their staffs.

The All-Star game is the closing feature of the Mississippi State College Coaching School, July 31-August 4. Among the 22 instructors listed on the faculty of the tuition free school are Woodruff, Hickman, Art Guepe of Virginia, "Red" Drew and "Hank" Crisp of Alabama, Dobie Holden of Pearl River Junior College, Doss Fulton of Jackson Central High and many others. Advance registration points toward an unusually large attendance for the Coaching Clinic.

INSECTS HELP IN REMOVING BARK FROM PINE POSTS

Bugs Working Under Bark of Post Make Peeling Easy in Forestry Study Made at Experiment Station

State College, Miss.—Insects helped peel pine fence posts in studies recently conducted by the Miss. Experiment Station, and oak and gum posts did not respond favorably to the "bug peeling" test.

Pine poles were cut in three lengths and stacked in the shade for several weeks in an effort to learn what effect the insects, working under the bark, would have on the task of peeling the post.

"Insects were found to be helpful in bark removal from pine posts," Forester C. B. Marlin reported. "At the end of 30 days, bark loosening by insects was well under way, but not complete, especially on the larger pine posts. At the end of 60 days, the insects had mined completely between the bark and the wood on the pine posts, and bark removal was as easy at this time as it was when the test was continued to 120 days. It is possible that the time required to peel posts can be reduced by the use of shade and bug attractors."

Posts should not be piled near growing trees during the times the insects are active as this may cause the insects to damage the trees, Mr. Marlin warns.

Very little insect activity was found in the post oak and red oak posts even after 120 days. Although bugs were not effective in loosening the bark, the peeling problem began to be easier for red oak at the end of 60 days, and for post oak at the end of 120 days. This reduction in peeling problem appeared to be due to partial separation of the wood and bark, permitting the bark to be removed without difficulty in continuous sheets. This loosening was caused by normal weathering.

Insects worked under the bark on gum posts, and the bark from these areas was easy to remove. However, the insect work was far from complete and the bark was extremely difficult to remove from areas of the post not worked by the insects. Removal of the bark from gum posts should be

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

Pearl River Dresses Up Band

Poplarville—Pearl River college expects to have a better dressed, better marching, and better sounding band during the 1950-51 school year, says Leslie J. Evinger, band director.

According to Mr. Evinger, he has two good reasons to be optimistic. Most of the members of his band will be experienced musicians and new uniforms have been ordered for the entire band.

Unless the draft interferes, the band will be about 40 pieces strong, plus five majorettes and a drum major. Only about 15 of these will be new to the band as about 25 members of last year's band are expected back.

Two of the majorettes, Gloria Hankins, Baxterville, and Jackie Garrett, Poplarville, will be back from last year. The other three positions in the majorettes line will be filled by new talent.

The new uniforms will be in the school colors of maroon and gold. The uniform coats will have military collars and will be maroon except for one folded back lapel which will be gold. They will have twin rows of gold buttons down the front.

Trousers will be maroon with a gold stripe down each leg. The caps will be maroon, trimmed in gold, and topped with a

GUESTS OF ARMITAGES

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Armitage, owners of the Pines, went to New Orleans last Monday to meet their daughters, Mrs. C. Harkins and Mrs. M. MacNally, and children, who arrived by plane from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. They will spend about six weeks with the Armitages at their home in Waveland, where they will be joined by their husbands for a short stay. All will motor back to Philadelphia.

Majorette uniforms will be gold trimmed with maroon to contrast with the other uniforms. While these will be similar in general design to the other uniforms, they will feature a circular skirt gold on the outside with the under side of maroon.

Jaycees In Resolution Condemn Subversive Elements

Jackson, Miss. July 24th.—The Mississippi Jaycees, in a strongly worded resolution unanimously passed by its Board of Directors in Jackson Sunday, condemned "as being un-American the acts and behavior of every subversive element designed to bring undue pressure upon public officials in their endeavor to discharge the duties of their offices".

Although the resolution did not mention the Willie McGee case, it did point out the Civil Rights Congress' efforts to bring pressure on Miss. courts. The resolution further called upon the executive and judicial officers to continue to uphold, enforce and administer justice fearlessly, fairly and without favoritism to all persons alike, without respect to race, creed, or station in life.

It pointed out that according to a capable and impartial survey, Mississippi has less subversive influence of communism than any other state in the Union, and named the Civil Rights Congress, "an organization recognized as being of a subversive nature," as the organization responsible for the bringing of undue pressure upon the public officials of Mississippi to interfere with the judgment of the court in a recent case heretofore entered by regular and proper procedure.

Bruce Aultman, Hattiesburg, Jaycee president presided over the meeting. Other matters passed by the board included the decision to continue co-sponsorship with the Mississippi Aeronautics Commission, the Mississippi Air Tour held this summer. A program of work was adopted which calls for organization of several new clubs in Mississippi, continued emphasis on the Hoover Commission Reports, and the Distinguished Service Award program which each year recognized the outstanding young man in Mississippi. The board received reports from each of the 18 clubs represented at the meeting Sunday which was followed by the annual "College of Jaycee Knowledge" which was held Saturday afternoon.

WOOD
is the Style

this year and every year

Many of the season's smartest creations began as trees growing in our forests. Yes, the "new look" comes from one of man's oldest, most useful materials—wood. As rayon, it will appear this season in the wardrobes of millions of American women.

It takes a lot of trees to keep America supplied with rayon. But our forests are up to the job. Where mature trees are logged to make rayon pulp, new trees start to grow. If they are protected from fire and other destructive causes, in 15 to 30 years, they will produce another crop of rayon for dresses, slips, rugs, draperies and the countless other things we made from this test tube textile.

All Americans can share in protecting our forests. Keep America's forests growing. Help protect them from fires.

WOW Dedicates Plaque In Honor Of Forrest, July 23

Ashland, Miss.—A plaque honoring Nathan Bedford Forrest, renowned Confederate cavalry general, was dedicated here Sunday, July 23, by the Mississippi Camps of The Woodmen of the World.

The plaque, which was placed on the Benton County Courthouse grounds, was presented by President Farrar Newberry, Omaha, Neb., of the Woodmen Society on behalf of the Camps of Mississippi. Mr. Newberry was introduced by Mississippi's Lieutenant Governor, Sam Lumpkin.

Woodmen of the World Head Consul Frank Worsham accepted the memorial for the Woodmen of Mississippi. State Senator John Fereese acknowledged the gift for the Board of Supervisors of Benton County.

A descendant of General Forrest unveiled the memorial plaque.

Fred Smith, prominent Ripley, Miss., attorney, delivered the dedicatory address.

C. B. Hutchinson Tupelo, Miss., attorney and prominent Woodman, presided.

General Forrest was acknowledged the foremost Confederate leader of the West. Early in the Civil War he raised and equipped a Confederate regiment of cavalry and commanded at Fort Donelson. He was wounded at Shiloh, captured Murfreesboro and shortly after that was commissioned a brigadier-general. His raids in Tennessee, in 1864, were among the most spectacular of the war.

The Benton County memorial plaque is one of many placed by Woodmen Camps to honor historic persons and events in carrying on the civic and patriotic activities of the Society's nationwide "Fraternity in Action" program.

The inscription on the plaque here reads:

"To Honor Nathan Bedford Forrest (1821-1877) Distinguished Commander Confederate Cavalry known as Wizard of the Saddle this plaque was placed in 1950 by Camps of Mississippi Woodmen of the World."

Mrs. Mary Forrest Bradley, Memphis, Tenn., granddaughter and only direct descendant of General Forrest attended the ceremonies.

RETURNS FROM SHREVEPORT

While there, Mrs. Spotorno also visited her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leo DeJean.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTESWater Is Cheapest Poultry Feed

By Howard F. Simmons

WATER FOR POULTRY

Water is the cheapest feed for chickens. An ample supply of clean, fresh water is important at all times, but especially during these hot summer days.

Automatic water fountains are the most convenient arrangement for watering birds. For birds on the range, provide a shelter over the water fountain to keep the water cool.

Take precautions to keep the water fountains and water clean. Wash fountains regularly.

Water allowed to become contaminated may spread poultry disease.

A poultryman cannot afford to let water fountains be empty at any time. Since the bird's body is around 55 percent water, it is easy to see why water is an important item in growing out good, strong, healthy chicks.

SEED CERTIFICATION

Buy certified seed now for the 1951 certified seed crop.

Farmers who wish to produce certified seed must plant either registered or certified seed. Be certain that seeds planted have an official certification tag attached to the bag.

Producers of certified seed in 1951 should save a sample of the certification tag attached to the bag. Also save a copy of the purchase invoice.

Plan to plant certified seed on good land that is free from noxious weeds.

Some crops to be certified in 1951 are soy beans, open-pollinated corn, hybrid seed corn, clovers, small grains and wild winter peas.

For detailed information write the Mississippi Seed Improvement Association, State College, Miss.

Annual Meeting of the Association will be held in the State College Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, August 17, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

ORCHARD JOBS
Handle fruit carefully during harvest to prevent damage.

Practices to help insure quality fruit and prevent loss are careful hand picking, use of ladders in large trees, and use of easily handled picking containers. Much fruit is damaged and wasted when shaken or knocked off the trees.

Pick fruit at proper stage of maturity to get the highest yield and best quality.

Peaches and apples increase greatly in size during the last few days before ripening. Tree-ripened fruits have the best quality, flavor and color.

Pick bright on apples and pears. This year, cut out now all twigs and branches which have been killed back by this disease.

Blight kills the tender tips of branches, causing the leaves, and some to turn black.

Make the cuts several inches below the dead part of the branches. To prevent spreading the disease, it is best to disinfect pruning tools after each cut by dipping in a solution of bicloride of mercury made by dissolving four gallons of water, or by using one ounce of this chemical in tablets according to the manufacturer's directions.

Enlightened Leadership

We live in an explosive and chaotic world. Along with internal, domestic friction, the war-scares create universal static. The emotions of people are easily upset. It does not take much of an upheaval to produce mass hysteria.

Of course in such troubled times, we never know the day that some overt act, some remote incident, may set the world on fire.

If fully prepared the nation needs internal strength—spiritual, political and economic. A people primed with purpose, galvanized against false rumors and steeled with strength of will, are fortified and need not fear. In such times there is no substitute for valor or virtue.

Then, there is the obvious need for enlightened and courageous leadership. A people cannot prosper to the fullest without a leadership in which they have faith and confidence.

Naturally we expect our leader to be better than the rank and file, for they should set the good example in honesty and integrity. Elevated to high place, because of their superiority, they should be above reproach. They should overcome their shortcomings to measure up to their responsibilities.

Statesmanship is not easily defined, but of whatever stuff it is made, it is composed of the fundamental essentials of character—of courage and conviction. No real statesman would trifle with the lives or fortunes of a people. He would not attempt even to fool some of the people some of the time. He would be forthright and righteous. He would command the respect of all men, friend and foe.

Filled with anxiety, the people expect their public officials to be worthy and well qualified. They expect them to be clean of mind and strong of heart. They expect them to measure up to the qualifications of enlightened and constructive leadership, especially in uncertain and chaotic times.

Forestry On The Farm

By: John Guthrie, Forestry Agent
Illinois Central Railroad

Land, 60 acres in all, originally part of the Federal Land Grant to the Gulf & Ship Island Railroad (now part of the Illinois Central System) was homesteaded by Charles Calhoun at Mt. Olive, Miss. back in 1891, where he has lived ever since. Mr. Calhoun became the owner of this land on March 1, 1891. Beautiful longleaf pine covered the land at that time and upon selling the virgin timber in 1906 Mr. Calhoun said he thought he was robbing the fellow who bought it for $5.00 an acre.

On the farm now, 80 acres are in second growth Loblolly pine, some of which are over two feet in diameter, breast high. Mr. Calhoun recently offered $12,500 for all of his timber which shows it is really worth something today. However, he refused this offer because he prefers to select the trees to be cut, thereby insuring a perpetual income from them instead of selling all the timber at one time. By practicing selective cutting this "Tree Farmer" is 'growing' more money than he could if these acres were growing farm crops. "And the nice thing about it is," he said, "I haven't had to do anything EXCEPT keep out fire. It wasn't burned-over in 30 years."

The care Mr. Calhoun has given this timber is exemplified in the fact he now has over a half-million board feet standing on his 80 acres of woods. However, this amount does not include the 30,000 board feet he gave to repair his church a few years back.

Under the guidance of W. B. Gary of the Soil Conservation Service and C. D. Lowe from Mississippi Forest Service a "farm plan" has been devised. As a result he has started to treat his

Mr. Calhoun stands between two of his 40-year old second growth loblolly pines that measure over 24 inches in diameter. The original virgin longleaf pine was cut in 1906 and 1907. Fire has been kept from this area, and a deep spongy litter covers the ground which prevents soil loss by erosion. Illinois Central Photo timberland as a cash crop which is to be harvested periodically.

Assistant Extension Forester, Ralph Robinson, together with Mr. Calhoun's timber for a "thinning" cut. This will remove the large value trees, permitting the smaller suppressed trees to grow faster into large valuable sizes.

Asked why he didn't sell all his timber now so as to have the money, he said, "I want to let the trees grow. I don't need the money and maybe someone else will after me."

Mr. Calhoun's attitude could well be the key-note for our present generation—the changing of the old "cut out and get out" philosophy, to one of conservation for the generations yet unborn.

Lions' Band Stages Concert

Chicago, July 28 (Special) — Mississippi's outstanding Lions' All-State Band, consisting of 83 musicians from 37 cities, staged a free concert at the municipal auditorium in Jackson, at 8 p. m., Tuesday, July 25.

This was determined at a caucus of Mississippi delegates to the International convocation of Lions, following a triumphal tour of the convention city by the young bandmen.

L. C. Latham, Vicksburg, state chairman of the band committee, presided at the meeting and Maurice Thompson, president of the Jackson Lions Club, issued the invitation to the state committee to allow the band to appear in the state's capital for the event.

The Mississippi band was one of the flashiest marching units to appear in the 3-mile long Lions parade here Monday. Similarly, at concerts in hotels and at the Lions International Convention, the musical unit has racked up an amazing record for popularity with the music-loving public. Director Roy Martin describes the unit as "one of the finest high school bands I have ever seen."

VISITS PARENTS
Frank Quintini, Jr., of New York, spent two weeks at the home of his parents. He is attending Whittman's School of Interior Design.

His actions exemplify the "Conservation Pledge" which every good American should learn and follow: "I give my pledge as an American to save and faithfully defend from waste the natural resources of my country—its soil and minerals, its forests and wildlife."

Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago. "That is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL," she says. "I've been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too! as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B, B₁₂, Iron and Niacin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

Prepare For August Planting

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

July marked the end of the spring garden and the beginning of the fall garden. Let's clean off all rows now that are not producing, plow the soil and be ready for August planting.

If available, use some type of irrigation to help carry the long season crops as pole lima beans and tomatoes through the droughty summer months. A good mulch will also keep down weeds and grass and save moisture.

FALL IRISH POTATOES

Sprout seed Irish potatoes in late July for August planting. To do this spread potatoes in layers about 3 inches thick. Cover the potatoes with sand, soil or sawdust. Keep this material moist, but not wet.

This process of sprouting should be started 10 days to 2 weeks before the planting date.

SELECT FROM 22 VEGETABLES

There are about 22 different kinds of vegetables that can be grown in fall gardens. Let's plant at least 12 to 15 of these and have good fall and winter gardens. Plant the following vegetables in late Aug. Mustard, kale, rape, bush snap beans, turnips, tender greens lettuce, parsley and cabbage. Beets, carrots and Swiss chard can be planted throughout August.

Here's how to plant during dry weather. 1. Open trench in row. 2. Fill trench with water. 3. Let water soak in. 4. Sow seed. 5. Cover seed with dry soil. 6.
